GANGSTER CHIEF ADVISES OF DEATH INTENT

Sentenced to Life—Alcorn Admits Part of Boettcher Ransom Forcibly Taken From Him by Sankey.

SIOUX FALLS, S.D., Feb. 10.—Gordon Alcorn, young Canadian partner of Verne Sankey, yesterday was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Alcorn's wife and his brother, H. I. Alcorn of Melville, Sask., were granted permission to leave the young Canadian before he started for prison.

Alcorn already hopes that by good behavior he might after many years be permitted to apply for a commutation of sentence and subsequent parole.

"I'm going to be a good boy and do what they tell me to," he said, "and maybe some day I'll receive some consideration."

SAYS HIS KEY SQUEAKED

Alcorn blamed Sankey for his arrest and said he had not seen his former gang chief in nine months, since shortly after his escape in Chicago. He quarreled with Sankey, he said, because the latter had held him up at the point of a gun and said he was the partner of his share of the Boettcher ransom money.

Sankey, Alcorn said, had boasted he never would be taken alive and had threatened to shoot him if he should be captured. Alcorn was arrested in Chicago, Jan. 31. He expressed the opinion that Sankey had "squeaked."

Sankey Intimated Suicide Intention

SENECA, Feb. 10.—Verne Sankey's suicide in the Sioux Falls, S. D., penitentiary Thursday night was inspired by a desire of the confederated gangster to have his two children remember him as a "good father" rather than a convict with an ugly prison uniform.

Sankey, of Denver, active for the one-time Canadian railroaders, said here yesterday.

"I talked to Sankey Wednesday morning in his cell and he gave me instructions then as to what he would like to have his children see and two children, in case any of them happened," Laska said.

"He made a motion with his hands that indicated he was committing suicide," Laska said.

"It was certain, however, that he would live up to his vow that he would never serve a penitentiary sentence."

The children are Echo, 15, and Orville, six.

Laska said Mrs. Verne Sankey, wife of the outlaw, held in jail at Sioux Falls, probably would be released at Sioux Falls in connection with the kidnapping of Charles Boettcher 2nd of Denver.

"Mrs. Sankey will not plead guilty and will fight the case to the limit," Laska said.

S. A. G. Barnes Asks Special Courses

Presiding that if Alcorn and Sankey were to get out of the present academic rut, special courses would have to be introduced by the normal schools of the state.

S. A. G. Barnes, superintendent of the normal schools, met with the board of trustees of the normal schools at the Alberta School Trustees' Association convention in Calgary, Friday.

The motion insists that the program of studies for the normal schools of our province shall include optional teaching courses in health and social sciences, commercial, technical, agriculture and music, and that this program be prepared for the opening of the normal schools in September next.

Farmer Kills Self, Takes Horses And His Dog With Him

BRETON, Feb. 10.—Carefully planning his death so that he might take his horses and dog with him, a bachelor farmer of the Breton district, committed suicide this week.

McDowell shot his dog and team from his barn, then set his own life on fire, placed a gun in his hand, shot himself and fell into the flames.

Years ago he told friends, "No man will drive my horse home," he said.

His end was carefully planned. Before taking his life he fed his horses and baked a fresh batch of bread, which he left for his neighbors who would have to arrange his funeral.

McDowell settled here 24 years ago, coming from the United States. He has no known relatives here.

Disorder Kills Air Rackets

The president made the disclosure of the cancellation of his regular press conference, indicating the basis of the action was the evidence of fraud and collusion between the Senate majority and a parallel inquiry by the post office department.

The cancellation order issued by Farley did not include the Pan-American Airways which carries mail to Caribbean Islands and to South and Central America.

34 ROUTES ELIMINATED

Thirty-four routes, many of them extensions to the line originally established under contract, are involved in the order. The extensions are granted under authority of the former postmaster-general.

The names of the companies holding the contracts follow:

American Western Air Transport; Western Air Express; Boeing Air Transport; Pacific Air Transport; Northwest Airlines; Koller Aviation Corporation; Trans-Syria Air Lines; Eastern Air Transport; National Airway; and Transcontinental and Western Air.

FIVE YEARS, COST $2,130,000

The total mileage for the mail flown last year by the government was 3,550,000 miles, over a route mileage of 27,000.

The government has paid to air mail companies $2,130,000 in the last five years. This cost to the government, however, was reduced by the $1,000,000 post office department received from the public for air mail stamps.

Putting the army fliers into the mail carrying field was described as a temporary expedient to serve until new companies bid and received contracts for the work.

The present air mail companies for five years.

Hardly had Mr. Roosevelt made the announcement of his order for the army of the war department to take over the air mail service, and the army chief of staff, General Douglas MacArthur, had ordered the army was ready for the work.

COMMERCIAL MEN STUNNED

"We will start flying the air mail a week from today and there will be no interruption of the service," MacArthur said.

Officials of mail and passenger-carrying lines were stunned by the news of the government's move.

Those of one company that operates through Washington declared, "This will mean that we're all washed out of business."

The airline industry is expected to appeal to the court for an injunction to stop the government from taking over the service.

YOUR FATE IS IN YOUR HAND!

LOOK AT YOUR HAND

Will your success be the result of the outstanding characteristics of General Dawes, whose hand clearly shows the line indicating such powers. Look for the line which starts at the side of the hand up to the first finger and runs across the palm, slightly curving at the end. It denotes a striking ability to concentrate on the thing at hand and is known as THE LINE OF CONCENTRATION.

This outstanding member of American public life has shown throughout his career a vigor and dispatch which have given him his famous sobriquet, "Hell to the Rafters." Born in Chicago in 1865, the son of Brigadier General Rufus H. Dawes, commander of the Ohio Brigade of Volunteers in the Civil War, he studied law. In Nebraska, where he took up his law practice, he became one of the leading baristers of the State. Success has marked his entire career, which has embraced not only law, but politics, finance, diplomacy and the arts. During the war he distinguished himself as general purchasing agent for the American Expeditionary Forces as well as for his activities as a member of the Military Board of Allied Supply, for which he was decorated by both France and the United States. He first gained political attention as Vice President of the Congressional Committee. His election as Vice President of the National Committee, after which he was appointed by Hoover as Ambassador to the League of Nations, has been his middle name, not only in public life but in authorship and journalism. ## GENERAL STRIKE ENDS IF PART OF DOLLIFUS

Dollifus Between Two Fires Following Thwarted Marxist Plot - Faction Openly Divided on Issue.

VIENNA, Feb. 10.—The belief that the Austrian Government will follow the sensational exposure of an alleged Marxist plot, with the dissolution of the Socialist party, has been expressed yesterday by Socialist circles, where it was said a general strike would thereby be precipitated.

Government spokesmen, on the other hand, pointed out that "all evidence collected in police raids on Socialist centres Thursday" will be carefully examined, before a further move is to be expected.

Chancellor Engelbert Dollifus, who returned yesterday from Budapest, was between two fires, one on the one hand for suppression of the Socialist party, while on the other stretched the hand of friendship to the Socialists. Paeist Heimwehr leaders demanded that Dollifus "crush Marxism" immediately by dissolving the party.

At the same time Leopold Kunsch, one of the most influential leaders of Dollifus' own Christian Social party, made a similar conciliatory speech in favor of the Socialists in the Vienna city council.

"Let us come to an understanding before a state of siege begins," he said. His words were warmly applauded.

SAFETY STORES APPROVE PROBE

L. W. Bailey, president of Safety Stores Limited, has expressed complete accord with the resolution adopted recently by retail merchants in all over Canada, which endorses the setting up of an investigation committee by the federal government to probe trade practices.

"Without doubt," said Mr. Bailey, "business has reached a point where these conditions are so serious that some form of legislation controlling cut-throat competition seems necessary in order that both merchant and consumer, as well as the producer, shall enjoy a nearly balanced deal as it is humanly possible to give."

WASTE MEANS CHECK

"The waste of destructive competition must be controlled just as greed for exorbitant prices at the expense of the consumer must be controlled. The farmer or producer is entitled to more for the products he produces, and the consumer to have his money go as far as possible. If he does not get his money's worth, he will go elsewhere to get it."

"Business men have to learn the value of unselfish co-operation and merchants have to realize that the only way to succeed is to help their neighbor. If they do not, they will be beaten by their competitors out by the market."

"If we can only get a fair price for our products, and the merchant and producer can get a fair price for their products, and the consumer can get a fair price for his money, then we will be satisfied."

"The recent move of the retail merchants to get a fair price for their products, and the merchant and producer to get a fair price for their products, and the consumer to get a fair price for his money, is a move in the right direction. It is a move to get the facts concerning trade practices and to determine what is the best way to get the general policy of what is needed, but how to secure a workable program is a problem."

"It may be that the various industries in Canada will have to adopt their own codes of business ethics. It could be in my opinion, would approach most nearly to the ideal solution."

NO DEFINITE CHARGES

"There will naturally be a great deal of speculation as to what the findings of the proposed government investigation will be, but in the meantime people should bear in mind that the investigation is no charge against anyone."

MISSING MEN REACH SAFETY, CAMERON BAY

Wandered for Seven Weeks in Arctic Wastes Short of Food

CAMERON BAY, N.W.T., Feb. 10.—How three prospectors, Lorne Brotherton, Frank Dwell and Frank Morrison wandered for seven weeks in the icy fastness of the Great Bear lake country, were forced to camp when temperature dropped too low for travel, ran short of food, three times heard the drone of an airplane motor which they could not attract, was told in an interview here with a Bulletin representative, following their arrival at Cameron Bay, Thursday.

Lorne Brotherton tells his own story.

"We were caught in a storm crossing Great Bear lake in October and camped on Manitou Island overnight. In the morning our barge was blown to sea."

"We waited for some time but, as we got no further news from the barge, we decided to leave."

"We travelled along the north coast of Great Bear lake until the temperature dropped so low that we could not breathe it and travel. So we camped at Grizzly River mouth."

"Our grub supply was running short. We caught a few rabbits in snares but there was no other game available."

"We knew then we could not make the bay so we started out to cross the bay at McVicar's Arm. Some tea was all that was left of our grub supply."

"Sometimes we had a rabbit or two and some days we were without food."

"We heard a plane passing overhead but it was moving in the wrong direction and this was not us."

PEACE RIVER SPORTS MEET IS SUCCESS

Large Crowds Attend Winter Carnival in the Northland

PEACE RIVER, Feb. 10.—The winter carnival has come and gone and with it goes a record for success far exceeding the fondest expectations of the committee in charge.

Only three senior hockey teams were able to turn out, representing High Prairie, Peace River and Peace River. It was a round-robin contest, with each team billed against the other, but the early elimination of High Prairie in their first two games, Fairview 2, High Prairie 1; Peace River 2, High Prairie 1, brought Peace River and Fairview into the finals with a single game played before a record crowd, the home team displaying brilliant form against the visitors.

Manitoba Is Cautious Over Wheat

Winnipeg, Feb. 10.—Conduct of the Manitoba government and other prairie governments relative to the London wheat agreement drew criticism from the Manitoba legislature yesterday.

The whole scheme of participation in the agreement had been inspired by the prairie premier and his brain trust, "Mr. Evans charged," and they were now hiding behind the coat-tails of the dominion government and trusting to "grasshoppers."

DIVER SEEKS FAMOUS HULK

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Feb. 10.—Oliver Bridge, diver, today will drop through a hole in the ice near Illinois Island, St. Ignace, in an attempt to obtain a clue which will identify the old hulk on the bottom of the lake. It is believed the built part of the lost Griffin, first sailing ship of the Great Lakes, lost 22 years ago.

John Oswin, Chipewyan Indian, and others declare the story of the wreck has been handed down for generations and they are certain the hulk is that of the Griffin. If it proves to be the Griffin, it will be raised.

ALL RECORDS FOR TEMPERATURE BROKEN FRIDAY

Fifty Degrees Below Recorded in New England - New York Touches Coldest Spot in 64 Years

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Record low temperatures in many cities along the Atlantic seaboard brought at least 26 deaths in the United States yesterday, hampered shipping and communications and caused untold suffering.

Weather experts could promise no relief over the week-end from the sub-zero temperatures.

Unofficial minimum readings in New England reached about 50 degrees below zero, New York's coldest hour found the mercury at 143 below zero.

At almost unprecedented blanket of below-zero temperatures covered all Ontario, Quebec and the Maritimes, for the second straight day.

THIS IS SO SUDDEN

According to a New York report it has been decided that Canadian wheat may be shipped through the United States to a British port without being classed as foreign grain and subject to the six cents a bushel tax imposed on wheat imported from outside the Empire.

This is good news of course, and there was much rejoicing in the Canadian wheat trade authorities who get around to that sensible view of the matter. But it only a year and a half since the Ottawa wheat agreement was framed.

THE RIGHT TO RULE

Premier Borden, it is said, will call a caucus of the U.F.A. members next week, and find out whether the Government has sufficient support to enable it to carry on for another year without an election.

No blame attached to the Government for trying to find out "where it is at." But it may be pointed out that whether the Government can keep enough supporters in line to struggle through to the end of the year, that needs answering. The question is whether the Government has a right to try to stay on, in the circumstances which have arisen.

The political agitation that created the Government has been unsuccessful in its attempt to merge its objects and activities in those of the C.C.F. If the Government has been elected with no mandate from the U.F.A., the C.C.F., or any other section of the electorate, if the Government has switched, it has tied itself up to a program radically different from that which it has following and that which it elected to follow, and has no warrant from the public to continue.

The one proper course to pursue is to carry through the present session and then go to the voters. Whether the Government will be C.C.F., or hasn't, the obligation is the same, and cannot be side-stepped.

AT THE CROSS-ROADS

One Conservative member has had the courage to speak right out in meeting at Ottawa; Mr. J. H. Stitt, representing Selkirk, Manitoba.

He urged that interest rates be reduced, that Dominion bonds be converted at lower interest rates, and that $100,000,000 of new money be printed and spent in public works, without anybody being paid interest for the privilege.

Some of the things he said in supporting that sane and urgently necessary procedure must have caused consternation among those of his colleagues who put party solidarity ahead of public welfare. "There is an issue facing the Government today, the like of which has never faced any government in Canada," he said.

With the Conservative members back up Mr. Stitt in demanding that the Government reverse its policy and let the country out of the "strait jacket" of high interest rates. The Conservative voters they must win. Liberalism, not election if they are to escape from low prices, mounting debt and unpayable taxation?

FACTORIES ARE BUSIER

Members of the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association met last night for their annual meeting this week, in circumstances more encouraging than at this time in any of the preceding four years. There has been a farm products and the expectation that stimulus will be given to construction operations by the Dominion Government, make the outlook more hopeful for manufacturers in Alberta and elsewhere, as for those in other lines of business.

This is also the time of a special "Industrial recovery number" published by the Association. The cover design graphically conveys the impression that "by the time of the year in manufacturing industry."

The chart shows that from early in 1920 to early in 1933 there was an almost uninterrupted decline in the physical volume of business in Canada, while during 1933 the indicating line turns sharply upward, and by the end of the year had recovered nearly one-fourth of the decline of the preceding four years.

Industrial Canada does not suggest that this rate of recovery can be maintained unchecked, but thinks the development is genuine and looks for the upward movement to continue.

Of interest to those outside the manufacturing industry it is suggested that, with this bettered outlook, manufacturers are now considering whether the time has not come to put into effect plans for improvement or expansion which may have matured during the quiet years. The time has now come to lift the embargo on these and, before costs rise to higher levels, get things moving—"would seem to be sound advice to the manufacturers, and carries a hope of wider employment and better business for wage-earners and those engaged in commercial enterprise.

Poems That Live

TO WORDSWORTH

Poet of Nature, thou hast seen to know
That things depart which never may return:
Childhood and youth, friendship and love's first glow,
Have fled like sweet dreams, leaving thee to mourn.

These common uses I feel, One loss is mine
Which thou feel'st, yet I alone deplore.
Thou wert as a tone star, whose light did shine
On one frail bark, in winter's midnight roar.

Thou hast led to a restful refuge shore,
Above the blind and battling multitude:
In honored poverty thou didst repose
Song consecrated to the gods above.

Deserting thee, thou lovest me to grieve,
Thus having been, that thou shouldst cease to be.
Childhood and youth, friendship and love's first glow,
Have fled like sweet dreams, leaving thee to mourn.

CANADA FIRST

When Japan left the League of Nations, the League of Nations was a thing of the past. The League had condemned Japan's action in Manchuria and Japan had disavowed with the decision and decided to withdraw. When Germany left, she left because her government resented the peace treaties and regarded the League as the guardian of the cause of the weak.

When Senator A. D. McLean wishes Canada to withdraw from the League, not from any honorable motive of defiance or disappointment, but because she is afraid to remain. Senator McLean sees the League as a sinking ship and wants Canada to be the first to pull out.

Senator McLean says Canada should quit the League with words of defiance and come in Europe within five years. This is unwise in cowardly course. The strengthening of the League as the guardian of the cause of the weak, Mr. Bennett, who has been a member of the League, should quickly rebuke his lieutenant and help to quickly McLean's deplorable propaganda.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COUPER

A number of readers have sent letters of comment and enquiry about Major Douglas's scheme of Social Credit, since the topic was introduced into the columns of the Bulletin. It is expected in early summer to lecture in western Canada, on his way home from Australia. The scheme is of interest to the lecture platform will be Howard Scott, director of Technocracy, Inc., coming to Vancouver. He is on a speaking tour from New York and back through Buffalo, Chicago, Kansas City, Texas, Los Angeles and up the coast to Vancouver. He will return across Canada to Winnipeg and home by way of Minneapolis and St. Paul. Western Canadians will probably have opportunities to hear him.

THE RESCUE

Scene. Four shipwrecked men adrift in an open motor boat, out of sight of land on Lake Superior. The engineer, who is Capt. R. "Banker" Bennett, Mate M. K. Ing, the passenger—an economist and engineer—and an able-bodied cabin boy, are guarding the water-cask and the ship's treasure chest.

THE A.B.—"Cricket! Cricket! Can I have another drink, skipper?"

Captain.—"Not another drop today. You chaps must all be rationed to a cupful. I'm entitled to my full ration of rum."

Passenger.—"We don't seem to be getting anywhere, Captain. We haven't even a compass."

THE A.B.—"The captain doesn't need one. He's going by 'dead' reckoning. Gosh but I'm thirsty."

Captain.—"Have faith in me, men. I'll get you ashore, or on the rocks, somewhere. We've saved the water-cask, and we've got rum."

THE A.B.—"Now, only water on your watch, skipper."

The Captain.—"Then row still harder and lighten up, boys!"

The Mate.—"Seems to me, sir, we might pick up a 'trade' wind and make shore."

Captain.—"We left that rowing team. The only wind here sets south and we don't want it."

Mate.—"Our sales were needed with too many of those tariff knots when we were in the trades. Now they're left us."

Passenger.—"What's wrong with trying to get the engine to work? Seems to only need a coupling between the engine and the screw, so that we obtain 'purchase' with it."

Captain.—"That's a good idea, but I don't want to see that thing, Mister. Shipwrecked crews have always rowed (tapped the cash box, approvingly). That's a sure thing."

Passenger.—"What good is that to us? Are we to survive and suffer trying to save gold that is no longer used?"

Captain.—"That's what all you know, Mister. The gold acts as ballast to keep the boat from capsizing."

Passenger.—"This boat is a power boat. There'd be no danger of her capsizing if she only had some power behind her. That would be a good idea, wouldn't it?"

Captain.—"What do you know about navigation, mister? I didn't get my nickname of 'Banker' for nothing."

Passenger.—"I don't know, but I've seen a shipwrecked. Haven't I got the cash box? A bit of suffering is good for you. If you want relief, take an ear and row."

Passenger.—"There isn't even a spare ear left. Captain—Then take a jump in the lake and swim for it."

THE A.B. (whispering to passenger).—"Let's grab the water from those blighters."

Passenger.—"No. I'd probably start a fight and upset the boat. It's not worth the trouble. We've got to get on our feet. Let me think. (He sits by the gunwale with his hand trailing mouth and suddenly cries) 'Burre!' We've saved! Drop your cups overboard in the lake. We are afloat in the midst of plenty. You may be in command of the boat, captain, but you don't own the lake. That's here for all of us to use."

(Curtain, with Passenger and A.B. singing "Rule Britannia.")

Westerners, proud of western prowess in sports, can look forward to seeing a western swimming team win gold medals of swimming the boards in the next Olympics. In a public performance at the Crystal Pool in Vancouver, the team of 12-15 seconds, the 800 yards record by 41-15 seconds and the 1000 yards record by 40-35 seconds.

Another youth, Bob Penner, swimming in his last year of junior competition broke the junior 100 yards record by one-fifth of a second. The runner-up, 12-15 seconds, broke the senior 300 yards record by 3-4-5 seconds.

Wash set a new B.C. record for the 100 yards by lowering the time three-fifths seconds.

The girl swimmers were as remarkable. A little girl, Noel O'Connell, lowered the 50 and 100 yards Canadian records—the latter set by Mary McKinley of Edmonton.

Betty Bryan churned 300 yards in the junior competition in 4:19 flat, lowering the record by 18-1-5 seconds. What a night of record-breaking. With the exception of the 100 yards, the record-breaking swimmers were trained by Percy Norman, holder of long distance swimming records at the coast, who turned professional to coach his fellow members in the Vancouver Swimming Club. He has had even greater success as a coach than as a swimmer. He has trained up a team of 15 to take on any national team in the Olympics.

A girl pupil of his who finished ninth in the swimming marathon is said to be a likely winner.

Ringing Noises in Ears

By DOCTOR FRANK MCCOY

You might not think that geography would have anything to do with disease, but I have learned that ear noises are much more common among those living close to the coast than in the northern parts of the United States and in certain parts of Canada than they are in other parts of the globe.

I believe the explanation is that people in cold climates are apt to eat heavy, "heating" foods such as bread, buttermilk, muffs, suet and puddings. When such foods are eaten in too large a quantity they are likely to cause an excess of mucus to form in the body, leading to catarrh. One of the main causes of ear noises is catarrhal inflammation, affecting the ear.

In every case that has come under my observation, the patient has been able to bring about a complete and permanent cure of this annoying trouble by using the right diet and other helpful measures. In extremely chronic conditions it may take some period of time for the patient to totally relieve himself of ringing in the ears but I have received so many letters from readers who tell me they were able to overcome this trouble that I sincerely believe it can be done.

When throbbing noises are present in the ears, it is important to relieve any catarrhal condition that may be present. This is best accomplished by changing the wrong habits of living which are responsible for the trouble, to those good habits of living which will banish the catarrh.

Although the main cause of ear noises is catarrh this symptom may arise in high blood pressure, anemia, hysteria, neuritis, etc. Weakness and in rare cases disorders such as Meniere's Disease and otosclerosis.

Some patients say the noise is like a roaring in the ears, or like a humming, whirring or ringing sound. The ringing may be present all the time, or may come and go at times, or only at night. It may be noted in one ear only or in both. The annoying buzzing may prove very distressing to the patient who feels that he would gladly pay to stop the ringing for even a few hours.

Since ringing in the ears is very commonly found in cases of high blood pressure, it is important that you undertake as soon as possible the right treatment to bring about a more normal condition in the ears. During the time you neglect this, the ringing in the ears, you may be slowly growing more and more deaf, without realizing it.

If you have a noise strongly suggest that you write to me. Ask for the article called BANISHING NOISES IN THE EARS and for the diet you are to follow. In this way you will gain some more helpful information and way to use the right foods in the right way to correct ear noises.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION.—Mr. V. V. of Santa Fe, N. Mex. writes: "I am a married man aged forty, and I feel I am slowly losing my life. I feel very weak, have constant cold feet, often feel chills throughout my body and suffer from indigestion. Do you believe that nothing can be done for me? Please put the answer in your column."

ANSWER.—I see no reason to believe that you cannot improve your health in any way by adopting a health building regimen. The feeling of weakness and the chilly sensation may be overcome with information and you may correct your digestive difficulty by strict diet. Since you do not send me your name, it is impossible for me to send you the right directions which I have that might prove helpful.

Dr. Frank McCoy's great book, "The Fast Way to Health," gives you the mechanics of health in plain language. It is a limited supply on hand at the Bulletin. A copy will be mailed upon request to any reader who writes direct from this address.

If it is desired to communicate direct with Dr. McCoy, please send your name and address to Dr. Frank McCoy, 608 South Avenue, Denver, Colorado, and replies will be mailed direct from that address.

If you were born on February 11, you have the soul of a poet, and a dreamer's imagination. You love to linger in the land of make-believe.

The child born on February 11, as soon as it is old enough to understand, should be impressed with the necessity of doing things by routine.

The woman born on February 11 would do well to remember that she should be prepared to be able to do something of a practical nature.

The man born on February 11 might find it advisable to learn that issues cannot be avoided.

People born on February 11 might find it a good rule not to let indecision become a practical habit.

If you were born on February 11, you are an extreme proper type of personality. You are a stickler for the strict observance of all the forms prescribed by conventionalities. It may be possible some day you will realize that you do not play to be too superstitious, and that a sense of humor makes life worth while.

There has never been a real saying that "Laugh and the world laughs with you. Weep and weep alone." It is sometimes well for us to accept the world as we find it, and not try to change it by reforming it. Remember, smiling brings cheer. Storm, many times despair. Be joyous, and tolerant.

Next year, Mr. Norman was unable to make the journey to Toronto and she was handed over to another horse her husband. She is said to have increased her speed over five minutes a mile under Norman's coaching.

Looks as if western Canadians are going to do some gloating yet in the swimming events—with Percy Norman's help.

SIDE GLANCES--By George Clark

"It's all right, fellow, it's going to give me another week to collect that meat."

On this date—A Day in Canadian History—BY FRED WILLIAMS

On this date, in 1887, a public meeting in the Parliament Building at Ottawa endorsed the proposal of the Councils of Alberta and Saskatchewan to form an organization of nurses to commemorate Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee. Sir Wilfrid Laurier gave the suggestion his prompt approval and it was upon his motion that the meeting resolved that the meeting should be a reality.

The Victoria Order of Nurses was born. A national fund began with a substantial donation from the Imperial Order of the Eastern Star. The first Lady Aberdeen was elected the first president. The organization was made Queen Victoria for a royal charter and this was granted May 18, 1888. At the same time permission was given to the Victoria Nurses in Canada to wear badges similar to those worn by the Imperial Order of the Eastern Star. Great Britain, Miss Charlotte McLeod, a New Brunswick woman, who had long been in Canada, was brought back to Canada as superintendent.

And the work was under way. Few remember today the part played by the Victoria Nurses in the rush to the Yukon. An appeal came to Ottawa for nurses. At least four Victorian nurses formed an organization of nurses to commemorate Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee. Sir Wilfrid Laurier gave the suggestion his prompt approval and it was upon his motion that the meeting resolved that the meeting should be a reality.

Easiest Way Out Not Best

The other day I met an acquaintance whom I had not seen for several years and who was so sadly changed I scarcely knew her. She had been a handsome, slim, middle-aged woman, well dressed and well groomed. She had turned into a creature who was aging, thin and bent shoulders, shabbily dressed in clothes of the Warren G. Harding era, and without so much as a smudge of powder on her nose.

"Don't look at me," she exclaimed in answer to my startled glance. "I know I'm a fright. I know I am a wreck, but since my husband died, I've just given up. I don't go anywhere. I don't see anybody. I don't bother to buy any decent clothes. I've just dropped out of everything."

Ah, I thought, you are a coward and you have taken the easiest way of meeting trouble. You have surrendered to it. When misfortune came to you, you didn't take it on the chin. You look it lying down. When life handed you one, you didn't fight back. You simply threw up your hands and quit.

It is so easy to succumb to sorrow and to make a fetish of it. So easy to know your unhappiness until it acquires a morbid fascination for you. So easy to shut yourself up in a darkened room until you dread going out into the sunlight. So easy to sink into a morass of melancholy until you drown in your own tears.

The women who never get over things, who spend the balance of their lives in the cemetery after some one they love dies, who put off a worthless husband who has forsaken them for a platinum blonde, and who never cheer up after the loss of their money are the quitters. They are the women who never even try to make a comeback to reality and happiness. They just give in because it is so much easier.

Sometimes, the temptation to take the easy way is so strong that the technically best woman, who is at the bottom of most of our failures and misfortunes. Its most classical example is, of course, afforded by the pretty young girls who elect to follow the primrose path rather than walk the hard road of right living. They desire the bright lights, parties, jewels, but they are too indolent and self-indulgent to work and earn for themselves, so they have their souls for sale. Which means easy money at the time, however disastrous a bargain it proves to be later.

It is because women find it so hard to rise to the challenge of life that the easiest way that they fall so often into the undertakings. They balk at paying the price of success, which is hard labor and strenuous effort. They are not willing to put their work before their pleasure. They lack the lack in getting on, instead of efficiency.

Most girls don't even bother to perfect themselves in the technique of their trades. It is a rare thing to see a saleswoman who takes enough interest in her job to study "your figure and complexion" and give and bring for your inspection just the kind of frock and hat you can wear. Most of them are just display window for their envy and you can take it or leave it. They are not willing to make the superlatives. It is so much easier just to do as little as you can get away with.

And it is because women take the easiest way in marriage that there are so many divorces. A woman thinks that when she has her man safely tied to her by all the powers of State and Church, her work is done and she can sit down on the de-moralizing stool and fold her hands. She doesn't consider that she has made a more effort to keep him pleased and placated.

So she lets herself slump. She quits cooking her husband's hot meals. She quits reading and studying and keeping up with things and she lets her life stagnate. She gives up her music because it is hard.

Fur Jacket and Frill Dress Complete "Boots" Outfit

Here are two more of the smart new costumes Artist Martin has created for "Boots," ring-leader of the fun in the comic strip, "Boots and Her Buddies." She slips the short fur jacket over her frock on days that are not "cold enough for a more bulky wrap. The dress with the frilled collar and cuffs is one of her favorites because it is becoming. If you've saved all of the "Boots" cut-outs, you now have her complete winter outfit.

Always season vegetables well and do not depend solely on salt and pepper and butter. Lemon juice, vinegar and tomato juice improve the flavor of such vegetables as spinach, beets and green sweet peppers. Grated cheese may be added to the white sauce for creamed and scalloped vegetables. Onions, celery, horseradish, capers, olives and mint are vegetable flavorings that are well worth keeping in mind.

Butter and bacon fat add flavor to vegetables that probably no amount of other condiments can impart. A more pronounced flavor is obtained if the butter is melted and slightly browned before the hot vegetable is added.

Monday's Menu

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, cereal cooked to taste, crisp toast.

LUNCHEON: Ragout of mixed vegetables, toasted cheese sandwiches, canned cherries, coconut cookies, milk tea.

DINNER: Roasted halibut, lemon butter, latkes, potatoes, scalloped potatoes and applesauce, green cheese and prune salad, Boston cream pie, milk, coffee.

How to Keep Eye Wrinkles From Coming

Beauty Seekers Told Such Lines May Be Prevented

By GLADYS GLAD

"America's Most Famous Beauty" I DON'T THINK that any damsel would expect a Rembrandt or a Colton masterpiece to look its loveliest in an ugly wrinkled face, any more than she'd expect a beautiful portrait to be marred by a blotchy complexion.

That, of course, is why women gain added loveliness in furnished with a few wrinkles. But wrinkles are not a cosmetic defect. They are a natural part of the female of the species.

TWO FEATURES SCREENING AT RIALTO TODAY

Mystery Yarn "Before Midnight" and "The Fighting Code" Billed

Writers of mystery stories have seeking new and novel crime situations, until it seems that virtually every possible manner of doing away with a person has been exploited on the screen and in literature. But Robert Quigley, author of "Before Midnight," which opens at the Rialto Theatre Saturday for a three-day run, has struck literary gold in the form of a new twist to the death plot. In the plot, the "heavy" in the plot operates, that one of the principals in the story is killed before the eyes of a specially detailed detective, assigned as a body guard. The audience, viewing the picture is as baffled as is the "doby" working on the case.

Ralph Bellamy, one headquarter man and pretty Gene Raymon, supplying the love interest in the screening, head the brilliant cast. Buck Jones, still movie fans when he galloped over the hill out of the sunset to save the life of a maid from a horrible fate at the hands of the man, Diane Sinclair, is the star on the second half of the feature. "The Fighting Code" Jones' new starring vehicle is modernized, however from the old time version of the drama of the western cow country. Diane Sinclair, the blonde heroine is the cause of the wrangling among the new bad men of the old west in this "them's-against-them's" film.

BEES THURVE LIVE
ERISKE—The C. A. Whetzel, six miles south of Breckenridge, has demonstrated that bees can be successfully handled in central Alberta. From 24 hives put out in the spring of 1933, Mr. Whetzel developed 16 new swarms. The bees were fed on 11 acres of alfalfa and 30 acres of sweet clover and yielded 1,200 pounds of pure honey—net weight after extraction. Mr. Whetzel has 40 hives wintering in the cellar on honey they made over the 1,200 pounds marketed.

Capitol Has Them Flying Down To Rio

SONG, DANCE, GIRLS, GAGS AT CAPITOL

Fred Astaire, Ginger Rogers, Del Rio Star Revival of "Flying to Rio"

Aeroplanes garlanded with living beauties provide some of the amazing and thrilling spectacles of the musical extravaganza, "Flying Down to Rio," which opens a three-day run at the Capitol Theatre today.

The ships, with some 150 girls strapped to wings, struts and braces, soar through the air over beautiful Rio de Janeiro in the production's spectacular climax. Other girls perform dances on the wings, making the production the first musical show ever staged in London.

The very ultra-ultra of daring stage dancing is another feature of the picture. In the mid-air sequence of the rather amazingly "different" film, a daredevil adagio artist is hurled through the air from one plane to another in a dizzy, dazed, and dangerous performance.

The distinguished cast includes Fred Astaire, musical comedy idol of Broadway and London; Dolores Del Rio, a Latin girl in a part that fits her like a glove; Ginger Rogers, the peppy little red-head of "Kitty Street," and "Professional Sweetheart" Gene Raymond, one of the most popular leading men in the talkies today; and Paul Robeson, who, before coming to America was celebrated in South America and Spain.

Scottish Comedy Is Returning
Playing "The O'Shanter" on Thursday evening, Friday evening and matinee, March 1, 2, and 3, "The Cotter's Saturday Night" on Saturday evening and matinee, March 2, 3, and 4, the Scottish Musical Comedy Company makes a return visit to Edmonton. Their return is being eagerly anticipated by hundreds of the city, as very seldom has a company made such an impressive appearance. Since that time they have literally swept Vancouver audiences off their feet, on no fewer than three occasions within eight weeks.

Winchell's Revue Plays Dreamland

Russ Columbo in the movies now. Several years ago, when the now famous radio crooner lived in Los Angeles and worked in his father's asphalt paving business, where many film stars and executives came to eat, Russ tried to get into the movies, but to no avail in him.

No one but Abe Lyman, then a hit star in Hollywood music circles, predicted that Russ Columbo would make a star if given a chance on the screen. It is given that he has made a star of himself, and now Russ Columbo is featured with Abe Lyman and his band, and other stars of stage and screen in Walter Winchell's stage, "Broadway Thru a Keyhole," showing on Monday at the Dreamland Theatre.

MARITAL DRAMA PLAYS EMPRESS
"If I Were Free"—the terse phrase often voiced by the harassed housewife, the man behind the bars, the hunted fugitive, the unemployed worker—provides not only the title but also the theme of the drama of that name which opens at the Empire Theatre, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

Miss Dunne and Brock, fresh from their respective triumphs in "The Viceroy's" and "The Great Escape" seen in the company, Irene Dunne, pleases of a very modern love. Both are married to despicable mates, and are about ready to end their miserable lives when they meet at a party. The encounter brings forth interest in life, and they fall in love. When the couple decide to throw the bonds of Mrs. Grundy to the winds and take up a clandestine romance, Miss Dunne's husband learns a blackmail campaign against Brock and Brock's wife refuses to release him.

John Van Druten, the author of the London stage success, "Behold, We Live," from which Dwight Taylor adapted "If I Were Free."

STRAND OPENS JUNGLE DRAMA

A precedent was set in film locations when five of the biggest screen personalities of Hollywood went into the jungles on the Island of Hawaii for the filming of "The Frightened People," playing at the Strand Theatre.

The players who made the 2000 mile sea trip were Claude Rains, Herbert Marshall, Mary Boland, William Cagney and Leo Carrillo. The film's story opens with the first four principals escaping from a Dutch steamer which is being plagued by a wild spot on the coast of the Malay Peninsula, they hire a half-caste native guide to conduct them through the jungle to the next resort.

Instead of the three-day trek they had expected, the party loses its way and wanders through dense jungle for months. The veneer of civilization is stripped from them, and from ladies and gentlemen revert to primitive men and women.

GAME BIRDS NUMEROUS
ERISKE—Coveys of partridge and pheasants are plentiful in the fields surrounding Eriske, feeding on the grain ground stalks and are about ready to be shot. Both small and large numbers have been shot and sold for fox food. Both rabbits were numerous early in the season but not many have been seen since the snow came.

Rogers Film At Princess Today

Marion Nixon has one of featured roles in "Doctor Bull," Will Rogers' latest picture, coming today to the Princess theatre. This makes the third picture in just about as many months in which Miss Nixon has had an important role. The other two were "Pigmalion" and "Best of Enemies"—a fact that accounts for her being one of the busiest actresses in the film colony.

The supporting cast of the picture, which is the screen adaptation of James M. Barrie's popular novel, "The Little Adam," includes Vera Allen, Ralph Bellamy, Louise Dresser, Rosellen Hudson, Andy Devine and Burton Churchill.

ON THE SPOT
AT NEW EMPIRE
NEXT MONDAY
Returning from Calgary where they filled a brief repertoire engagement, the British Guild Players open their new Empire theatre engagement on Monday evening with "On the Spot." All the players who achieved great popularity here before return with the company, and in addition some new faces will be seen.

"On the Spot" is decidedly a modern offering. For the theme Wallace took the life of a famous Chicago gangster, "Big Boy" of them all. His checkered career offers facility for three dramatic acts of thrill with plenty of human touches and pathos through to for good measure. Calgary caught the Grand theatre while "On the Spot" is being rehearsed and the critics were enthusiastic over the Guild Players' production. Manager P. R. Allen states that the Guild Players return to Edmonton with a sincere desire for a long engagement. They are selecting particularly appealing repertoire of plays to be produced each week. Everything possible is being done to make the New Empire theatre the city's most popular playhouse.

Duffy did, exclaiming, "You're a lady kid," to Duncy. Then a little smile spread over was Duncy's face.

"Say, I'm not lazy, I'm just tired," Duffy told me. "I made you take my part. And, anyway, it's only fair that each one teaches a hand."

"Keep walking, so we won't lose time. I hope there are no hills to climb here. We'll have to go long till we arrive at Nature Land."

"You can run," they cried, the old man and woman, "and we can run inside and see a lot of things."

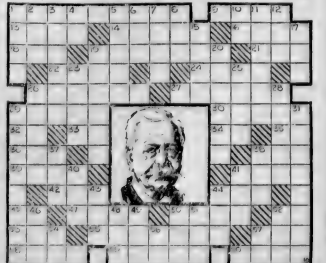

The Thins gathered 'round us and then all grew quite excited when the great big gate swung outward. "Follow me," says Scoutly cried.

"What a thrill as they rushed in! Then little Dotfy, with a grin, said, "Well, just what do we do next, now that we're all inside?"

(The Thins were a strange dam builder in the next story.)

SHAMBLES FOR MAN AND BEAST—Carrying out their wounded comrades, these men would have a twinge of conscience as they looked at the poor horse and wondered to themselves what horses had ever done that they should be drawn into men's wars. # General Radcliffe Dies Suddenly In Hunting Field

DISTINGUISHED ARMY CAREER COMES TO END

Was Chief of Gen. Currie's Staff During War Years

SALISBURY, England, Feb. 10.—Sudden death in the hunting field near here yesterday of General Sir Percy Radcliffe brought to a close after 40 years' service the outstanding career of a brilliant soldier, well-known in Canadian as staff and headquarters of the Canadian Corps from June 3, 1916 to March, 1918.

The success of operations of the Canadian Corps in 1916 and 1917 were due in part at least to the knowledge he contributed to the mapping of campaign plans.

DIED ON BIRTHDAY
General Radcliffe was 60 years of age yesterday for the past year he had been G.O.C. the Southern command. He collapsed suddenly while hunting and died shortly afterwards of heart failure.

Educated at Winchester's historic public school and the Royal Artillery Academy at Woolwich, Radcliffe served in the South African war with the Royal Horse Artillery, being mentioned in despatches and receiving the Queen's medal with

TO FRANCE IN 1914
A major in 1914, he accompanied the B.E.F. to France in August as general staff officer and later went to the Canadian corps.

With appointment of the late Sir Henry Wilson as chief of the imperial general staff, the latter called General Radcliffe from France to resume the important post of director of military operations at the war office.

During Radcliffe's service at the war office Russia and Poland became prominent. The Russians advanced on Warsaw and the situation became serious. The great power sent a military commission in which General Radcliffe represented the United Kingdom and under the guidance of the commission the allies called and drove the Russians from the country.

Twenty-One New Features Shown In Plymouth Models

There are more than 21 new features and improvements on the new Plymouth cars. Briefly outlined, these features are as follows:

1.—Independent front wheel springing of an advanced type, one on the lowest priced Plymouth models. The new springing system balances wheel shimmy which gives the new Plymouths amazing riding qualities.

2.—A bigger, 77-horsepower motor which combines sparkling performance with economy.

3.—A new ventilating system. A small handle directly above the centre of the instrument panel opens the windshield with a twist of the wrist. There is also a crowd ventilator. In addition, the Plymouth has side window vents which are declared to be the "last word" in ventilation. There are also two rear window vents on the De Luxe models.

4.—The efficiency of Plymouth's four-wheel self-equalizing hydraulic brakes have been further improved, with the braking area increased by a third on the De Luxe models.

5.—The safety-proof bodies reinforced with steel have also been strengthened to an even greater degree, through several structural design improvements incorporated for the first time in the new Plymouths.

6.—The new Plymouths have a new, smart and distinctive appearance.

7.—Interiors have been completely redesigned. Plymouth officials say that the new interiors are the "marvel of any low priced car."

8.—Airwheel tires are regular equipment on the De Luxe Six. Wire wheels are regular equipment on the Plymouth Six.

9.—A new easy-shift transmission.

quiet in all forward speeds, is now standard on all models.

WORKER AT 80 GETS DAY OFF

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 10.—Charles W. Bennett, 80, intended to work at the city hall serving subpoenaed as he has for the last sixteen years, but his superior officers ordered him off duty on his birthday.

Bennett celebrated his eightieth birthday, and in fine health, Bennett went to work for the police department in 1907, and during those twenty-seven years has been off duty all only twenty-nine days, his record reveals.

Friends in the department presented him with many gifts as he left for a quiet day at home.

simplest type known. It's the same kind as that used on much higher-priced cars.

There are no bumps when you ride in Plymouth. No jolts—no jolts—no back-seat looking. You get an even ride over the roughest road.

And you pay no price penalty to get it! Our Six is $600 lower (K.O. $) than any other car with this feature.

INDIVIDUAL SPRINGING. This simple, rugged design enables each wheel to take its own bumps. It smooths out the road.

New Plymouths Now On Display Motordrome Ltd.

Classing a meteoric rise in popularity, during which its sales have more than doubled during the past year, the 1934 Plymouth cars are now on display for the first time in Edmonton at the Motordrome Ltd.

Introducing radical new improvements and a smart new styling to the low price field, they include the new Plymouth Six and the new De Luxe Plymouth Six. The De Luxe model has all of the improvements of its lower priced companion, plus an additional De Luxe feature.

The new Plymouths have even greater performance, remarkable riding comfort, and many innovations never before found in motor cars in their price class.

They have a new type of individual front wheel springing with coil springs of a new steel declared to be practically unbreakable under severe tests; more powerful 77-horsepower motor with floating power engine mounting; smart new bodies of low, rakish design; new interiors with luxurious trim, and many other style and mechanical advantages.

The new Plymouths retain all of their basic Chrysler Motors engineering features, including hydraulic self-equalizing brakes and new alloy steel bodies reinforced with steel.

The new De Luxe Plymouth Six is announced in five smart body styles: the Four Door Sedan, the Coupe, the Roadster, the Convertible Coupe-Roadster. Wheel base is 114 inches.

In announcing the new Plymouth line, the General Sales Manager, Plymouth Motor Corporation of Canada Limited, declared:

"The new Plymouths for 1934 represent the highest achievement of Chrysler Motors engineers in the field of low priced motor cars. These new Plymouths have every mechanical advantage found in the past on our highest priced Chrysler Motors cars. We believe that the new Plymouth Sixes will establish a new standard of value—and will

CANADA'S LOWEST PRICED CAR WITH INDIVIDUAL WHEEL SPRINGING

COME SEE the Biggest Car in the Lowest-price Field!

Only Lowest-priced Car with Individual Wheel Springing.. plus Floating Power.. Safety-Steel Body.. Hydraulic Brakes

The Plymouth Six... Canada's Lowest-Priced Car with Individual Wheel Springing.

EIGHT EXAMPLES OF QUALITY YOU WON'T FIND IN OTHER LOWEST-PRICED CARS

1. Rigid-X Box Section frame. Much stronger and more rigid than conventional type. Really one frame within another. It makes the whole car more solid.
2. Steel Plates. A sure mark of engineering care. They mean a better life between piston and cylinder, with better compression.
3. Four Rings per Piston. They give you all these important features. In fact—no other lowest-priced car offers more than one of them.
4. Engine Oil Filter. Better than your lubricant, and longer life from your lubricant.
5. Quiet Transmission. Second, high and reverse. Great shift easily without clanking. Particularly appreciated by women drivers.
6. Four Main Crankshaft Bearings. Instead of the usual three, Plymouth supports the crankshaft on four over-size bearings. It means smoother operation.
7. Really an extra braking system, operating independently of the regular foot brakes. Not merely a parking brake, an extra safety feature in case of extreme emergency.
8. Thirty Frictionless Bearings. Ball and roller bearings in a car are like jewels in a watch. Plymouth has more than 20—more than you will find in any other lowest-priced car. Sure proof of quality.

That means real protection. It means no jolts to get, pull loose or squeak. It means longer life with less need for "service" because of body troubles.

And the brakes. They're all hydraulic. No bolts, rods, cotter pins. Sure, smooth, equal action on all four wheels—braking hydraulic brakes are self-equalizing.

Biggest in Size—More Power
Naturally you want the biggest car for your money. Plymouth is that—for the De Luxe Plymouth has 114-inch wheelbase.

But the important thing is—Plymouth is the only low-priced car that gives you all of these important features. In fact—no other lowest-priced car offers more than one of them.

Go into all these points at your next opportunity. Prove that Plymouth is the best engineered car in the lowest-price field. Take a ride in it today!

A Complete Ride Story

But Plymouth gives you more than just a ride to insure smooth, easy riding. Every Plymouth has painted Floating Power engine mountings to put an end to engine vibration.

These mountings are much more than just pieces of rubber under the engine. They suspend the motor in balance—letting it do its own vibration.

You can rest and relax—because with Float Floating Power and Individual Springing, Plymouth gives you the smoothest ride in the lowest-price field.

Give a Thought to SAFETY

Everyone wants protection—in look at Plymouth's brakes—and Plymouth's safety-steel body.

You're safer in a Plymouth—because you ride with steel under you and around you. Plymouth bodies are built of steel reinforced with steel—then welded into one permanent piece.
